The study described in this research report analyzed the prevalence, nature, and predictors of injuries among

CNAs working in US nursing homes. Researchers used 2004 data from the National Nursing Assistant Survey and the National Nursing Home Survey. One of their findings was that 60 percent of all CNAs nationally reported a work-related injury in the year prior to the survey.

This textbook and the accompanying workbook is designed to instruct the student in basic uncomplicated nursing procedures to be performed under the supervision of a licensed nurse. The Certified Nurse Assistant will develop skills, attitudes and concepts which are essential to developing the Certified Nurse Assistant. These skills are taught with a holistic approach to include the impact on physical, psychological, social, ethnic, cultural, and environmental influences on the residents continued overall well-being. Becoming a Certified Nurse Assistant requires a basic knowledge of human anatomy, physiology, body systems and the impact of aging on those systems. It also requires specific skills which promote observation, interventions, individualization, resident choice, safety, and in general the overall well-being of the residents the CNA cares for. The course will utilize current federal and state regulations, principles of adult learning, ideas and resources for supplemental lessons and best practice approaches to Certified Nurse Assistant training with a focus on person-centered techniques.

The Heart, Sweat, and Tears of a Certified Nursing Assistant Mosby Ten Commandments for the Certified Nursing Assistant (In the Nursing Home), takes a down-to-earth look at the essence of the job as a CNA while giving advice to anyone working under that title to remember the reason they show up for work each day. This 80-page booklet embodies ten of the author's most powerful points and advice for the Certified Nursing Assistant. It is laced with blank notebook pages to use as a journal for personal reflection after each section. Please note, this booklet is titled for the CNA, however the intended purpose is to ensure that residents of nursing homes receive deliberate and divine attention while under the care of the person that spends the most time at the bedside; The Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA).

This combined text and workbook builds on the basic concepts and skills that the nursing assistant has already mastered. The tasks nursing assistants in advanced settings are expected to perform vary greatly in health care settings across the nation. Even if nursing assistants are not allowed to perform tasks independently, they are often expected to understand the care provided and assist other members of the health care team. The spirit of "lifelong learning" is at the heart of this text, which has been written in a way to inspire nursing assistants to set goals for career advancement and reach them.

From Bethany Knight, best-selling author of For Goodness' Sake: A Daily Book of Cheer for Nurse's Aides and Others Who Care, and Lisa Cantrell and Lori Porter, co-founders of the National Association for Geriatric Nursing Assistants (NAGNA), comes a new book on attracting and rewarding nursing assistants. Armed with extensive experience, the authors take an insightful and probing look at the staffing crisis in long-term care, and offer valuable suggestions to stop CNA turnover. We are not the authors, merely the privileged scribes of Take It to Heart: CNAs?

Solutions to the Staffing Crisis. Since 1981, we've been taught the book's message by listening to and watching thousands of dedicated nursing assistants. Reading their wisdom as presented here, readers will discover how to end the staffing crisis in long-term care.

Assistants Lippincott Williams & Wilkins My day started, by a briefing and review of my days assignment, There must be a passion to work with seniors and people with some type of disability, when my assignment seems to be a world of burden on my shoulder, I approach it with a smile, and when a client / consumer smiles back at me in appreciation it just makes my day. My approach to my job, is not just a job, or for my salary, it is the love I have for these people. My late father told us, "hard work does not kill anyone," I thought about this statement and came to the realization that not only did my father work hard, but he also worked smart, by hiring employees. Personally, I had to work. I approached every one with an act of love. Whether servicing a client or helping an associate, it must be with willingness, and love, that's the only way I could make it thus far. I did not know I would make it for a week, now its 16 years." Start your day with a prayer to God, and a smile."
